

Name: Allan Alaalatoa
Club: West Harbour (NSW)
Position: Prop
Height: 191cm
Weight: 123kg
Date and place of birth: 28/01/1994, Sydney, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2011)

Australian born with both family and Rugby ties to Samoa, prop Allan Alaalatoa has already represented his country as a member of the 2010 Australian Schoolboys side.

The son of Samoan parents, Alaalatoa was born in Australia into a family of Rugby players.

His father, Vili Alaalatoa, was a member of the Samoan 1991 Rugby World Cup side. He also played for Australian club sides West Harbour and Manly.

While making the Australian Under-20 side is his greatest achievement to date, Alaalatoa has also represented the Newington College 1st XV, GPS 1st XV, New South Wales Schoolboys and Australian Schoolboys.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Curtis Browning
Club: University of Queensland (QLD)
Position: Prop/Loose Forward
Height: 190cm
Weight: 106kg
Date and place of birth: 30/10/1993, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2009-2011), Australian Universities (2012)

The third-most capped Australian Schoolboy in history (behind Chris Feauai-Sautia and Hugh Roach) Curtis Browning is an imposing figure.

Currently playing Rugby with the University of Queensland while studying a Bachelor of Economics/Commerce, Browning has already captained his country at the Australian Schoolboys level.

As captain of the Australian Schoolboys in 2011, Browning scored a crucial try to help lead his side to a 26-19 victory over New Zealand Schools in Sydney last year.

Browning is also the grandson of former Wallaby Dick Marks, who represented Australia 17 times from 1962 to 1967, including five Bledisloe Cup matches.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Lindsay Crook
Club: University of Queensland (QLD)
Position: Centre/Wing
Height: 188cm
Weight: 93kg
Date and place of birth: 02/11/1992, Sydney, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010), Australian Sevens (2011-)

A member of the Qantas Men's Sevens for the 2011-2012 season, Lindsay Crook was hampered by injury for much of the year before making a return to international Rugby in London.

Known for his blistering pace off the mark, Crook competed in the HSBC Sevens World Series in Gold Coast, Dubai and London as a member of the Qantas Men's Sevens.

Crook grew up on Queensland's Gold Coast, where he attended one of Australia's Rugby nurseries, The Southport School.

As a child, Crook hoped to grow up to be an NFL player or an Olympian.

Name: Steven Cummins
Club: Eastwood (NSW)
Position: Second Row
Height: 201cm
Weight: 115kg
Date and place of birth: 29/03/1992, Sydney, Australia
Representative honours: NSW Schoolboys (2009-2010), Australia A Schoolboys (2009), Australian Schoolboys (2010)

A former Australian Schoolboys captain, Steven Cummins has represented both state and country in recent years.

Currently studying a Bachelor of Exercise and Sports Science at the University of Western Sydney, Cummins also coaches Rugby at his alma mater, The Hills Sports High School.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Thomas Cusack
Club: Canberra Royals (ACT)
Position: Loose Forward
Height: 190cm
Weight: 103kg
Date and place of birth: 01/03/1993, Canberra, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010-2011)

A member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and currently playing Colts with Canberra side Royals, Thomas Cusack has previously represented Australia at the Schoolboy level.

A graduate of Marist College Canberra, Cusack now studies a Bachelor of Sports Coaching and Exercise Science at University of Canberra, while also staying focused on his goals of securing an FxPro Super Rugby contract and a Qantas Wallabies jersey.

Cusack's skills aren't restricted to the Rugby pitch either, in his spare time he enjoys playing the piano.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: James Dargaville
Club: Sydney University (NSW)
Position: Centre
Height: 186cm
Weight: 92kg
Date and place of birth: 25/04/1992, Southport, Queensland
Representative honours: NSW Schoolboys (2010)

A student at Sydney University and Rugby player at Australia's oldest club, James Dargaville has made significant gains in his game since making his representative mark as a member of the NSW Schoolboys in 2010.

Dargaville currently plays for Sydney University in the Shute Shield, while also studying Civil Engineering.

Name: Allan Faalavaau
Club: Endeavour Hills (VIC)
Position: Scrumhalf
Height: 169cm
Weight: 82kg
Date and place of birth: 15/11/1993, Auckland, New Zealand
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2011), Australian Sevens (2012-)

A butcher by trade and just 18 years old, Allan Faalavaau has already impressed as a member of the Qantas Men's Sevens in 2012.

Called into the Australian Sevens side for the Las Vegas Sevens in 2012 as a result of injuries, Faalavaau scored twice in his debut tournament during the Bowl quarter-final against Brazil.

He has gone on to be a natural selection for the side, competing in five tournaments overall this year, with his performances in the shortened game helping secure his spot in the Australian Under 20s.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Con Foley
Club: University of Queensland (QLD)
Position: Centre
Height: 187cm
Weight: 86kg
Date and place of birth: 19/09/1992, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Sevens (2011-)

Centre Con Foley has already seen significant representative game time this year, having competed in every round of the HSBC Sevens World Series as a member of the Qantas Men's Sevens.

Foley notched 42 points in nine tournaments for the Australian Sevens in the 2011-2012 season, after being called up to the international level following appearances for the Aussie Thunderbolts in Noosa and Samoa over the last two years.

Foley made the move to international Sevens with a debut at Gold Coast Sevens – Fever Pitch, running on as a starter in the side's opening game against South Africa during the inaugural Gold Coast Sevens – Fever Pitch.

Name: Nick Frisby
Club: GPS Ashgrove (QLD)
Position: Scrumhalf
Height: 183cm
Weight: 82kg
Date and place of birth: 29/10/1992, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Queensland Reds (2012), Queensland U16

A member of the StGeorge Queensland Reds 2012 extended player squad, Nick Frisby is a dynamic scrumhalf with the versatility to play numerous positions.

Frisby was a member of the former QAS Reds Academy in 2011 (now the ARU National Academy) and impressed at the club level in Queensland, where he was named Colt of the Year and captained the GPS Colts.

He has also represented his state at the Under-16 level.

Name: Liam Gill (Captain)
Club: Sunnybank (QLD)
Position: Openside Flanker
Height: 184cm
Weight: 96kg
Date and place of birth: 08/06/1992, Melbourne, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2009), Queensland U15/U16/U19, Australian U20 (2010-), Australian Sevens (2010), Queensland Reds (2011-)

A member of the 2011 Australian Under 20s squad, but recalled to Super Rugby duties before he could play, Liam Gill returns to the side in the role of captain for the 2012 IRB Junior World Championship.

Making his Super Rugby debut in 2011, Gill played in nine matches that year, including the semi-final and championship games. Now a regular member of the Reds 2012 playing group, Gill has established himself as one of Australia's preeminent fetchers.

At 17 years old, 2010 was a standout year Gill, as he represented Australia in Sevens in the World Series and Commonwealth Games, winning a silver medal, while also joining the Australian Under 20s at the Junior World Championship. He also captained the Australian Schoolboys in a tour of the UK in 2009 and has represented his state at various levels including Under 19s. He is also studying a Bachelor of Business at Queensland University of Technology.

Name: Kyle Godwin
Club: Associates (WA)
Position: Flyhalf
Height: 187cm
Weight: 87kg
Date and place of birth: 30/07/1992, Harare, Zimbabwe
Representative honours:

A graduate of the Emirates Western Force Senior Academy in 2011, utility back Kyle Godwin was rewarded for his efforts with a spot in the Super Rugby side's extended player squad for 2012.

Godwin spent much of 2011 sidelined with a shoulder injury, after taking the field for the Force against the Australian Barbarians.

He forced his way back into contention for the 2012 season and offers coaches several options as he is capable of playing at flyhalf, inside centre or fullback.

Godwin made his Super Rugby debut in 2012 against the StGeorge Queensland Reds.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Lewis Holland
Club: Queanbeyan Whites (ACT)
Position: Scrumhalf
Height: 182cm
Weight: 83kg
Date and place of birth: 14/01/1993, Queanbeyan, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010-), Australian Sevens (2011-)

A regular member of the Qantas Men's Sevens, Lewis Holland is no stranger to representative Rugby.

Along with playing on the HSBC Sevens World Series, Holland is a former member of the Brumbies Academy, as well as representing the Australian Schoolboys in 2010.

One of four boys, Holland was born and raised in Queanbeyan and attended Canberra's Rugby nursery, St. Edmunds College, which has produced the likes of former Qantas Wallaby Matt Giteau, along with current Qantas Wallabies and Super Rugby winners Anthony and Saia Faingaa.

Holland is also an avid-surfer and enjoys spending time with his four brothers - all of whom play Rugby (Wyll Holland; Jake Holland - Australian Schools 2009; Tom Holland ACT 16s 2010).

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Jed Holloway
Club: Southern Districts (NSW)
Position: Second Row
Height: 195cm
Weight: 107kg
Date and place of birth: 02/11/1992, Wollongong, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010)

A promising young lock finding form in Sydney's club competition, the Shute Shield, Jed Holloway has already represented his country at the Schoolboy level.

Holloway is currently studying a Bachelor of Health and Movement at ACPE.

Considering his height, it isn't a shock to know Holloway has to order his shoes specially, to fit his size 16 feet.

He is also a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy.

Name: Oliver Hoskins
Club: Manly Marlins (NSW)
Position: Prop
Height: 190cm
Weight: 126kg
Date and place of birth: 06/03/1993, Perth, Australia
Representative honours: Western Australia U14/U16, Western Australia Schoolboys, Australia A Schoolboys, Western Force A

A product of Rugby WA development programs, Oliver Hoskins is a fierce prop with a bright future.

Having already represented his home state at numerous development levels, Hoskins made a significant step up to the Australian Under 20s, having previously represented the Australia A Schoolboys.

Hoskins was a member of the Emirates Western Force training squad for the entire 2012 pre-season.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Sam Jeffries
Club: Sydney University (NSW)
Position: Second Row
Height: 200cm
Weight: 117kg
Date and place of birth: 20/05/1992, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours:

Growing up, Sam Jeffries hoped one day he would be a professional swimmer.

Considering he was captain of the St. Joseph's Nudgee College GPS-winning swim team in 2009, this goal wasn't unrealistic.

Now a 117kg second rower, his eyes are set on a different prize as he chases his dream of becoming a Wallaby.

When not training and playing Rugby, Jeffries studies Construction Management by correspondence at University of Newcastle.

He has family ties to Rugby as he father Kieron Jeffries played for Australia Under 21s and Queensland.

Name: Silatolu Latu
Club: Sydney University (NSW)
Position: Hooker/Prop
Height: 180cm
Weight: 110kg
Date and place of birth: 23/02/1993, Tonga
Representative honours:

As a child, Silatolu Latu always dreamed of becoming a famous Rugby player.

And while Tongan by birth, with two Tongan parents, Latu hopes his involvement with the Australian Under-20 squad is another step toward his dual goals of a Super Rugby contract and eventually a Wallabies jersey.

Latu is also the cousin of HSBC Waratahs extended player squad member Lotu Taukeiaho.

Name: Apolosi Latunipulu
Club: Southern Districts (NSW)
Position: Centre
Height: 178cm
Weight: 94kg
Date and place of birth: 15/04/1992, Kogarah, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010), Australian Under-20s (2011)

Apolosi Latunipulu returns to the green and gold of the Australian Under-20 jersey for the second consecutive year, having graduated to the role after solid performances with the Australian Schoolboys in 2010.

In 2010, as a member of Sydney's Newington College, Latunipulu and his First XV teammates won the GPS premiership.

It seems Rugby is in the Latunipulu genes as his grandfather represented Tonga and older brother Sam featured with the Australian Sevens in the latter stages of 2010.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Latunipulu has also enrolled to begin a Diploma of Business following the IRB Junior World Championship.

Name: Matt Lucas
Club: Sunnybank (QLD)
Position: Scrumhalf
Height: 174cm
Weight: 80kg
Date and place of birth: 29/01/1992, Gold Coast, Australia
Representative honours: ARU QLD Academy, Australian Schoolboys (2009), Queensland Second XV (2011/2012), Australian Under-20s (2011)

A member of the 2011 Australia Under-20 side, Matt Lucas has since gone on to be an integral member of the Qantas Men's Sevens.

Lucas, the younger brother of St George Queensland Reds utility back Ben Lucas, was called into the Australian Sevens ranks from the Australian Rugby Union National Academy and quickly established himself as the go-to goal kicker.

While he was a late inclusion for the Qantas Men's Sevens squad bound for Hong Kong in 2012, Lucas found form and was selected for the Tokyo Sevens the following week, where he kicked the winning conversion in the Cup final, securing a 26-24 championship win over Samoa.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Leslie Makin
Club: Queanbeyan Whites (ACT)
Position: Front Row
Height: 174cm
Weight: 110kg
Date and place of birth: 02/01/1992, Canberra, Australia
Representative honours:

Another product of Rugby nursery St. Edmunds College, Canberra Leslie Makin is the son of a Samoan mother and Canadian father, both countries known for producing burly front rowers.

Makin narrowly missed out on representing the Australian Schoolboys, but more than made up for it with a call up to the Brumbies Academy.

His family are no strangers to Rugby, as Makin's uncle is professional Rugby centre Seilala Mapusua, who represented Manu Samoa at the 2007 Rugby World Cup.

Makin's cousin Jack Lam plays for the Wellington Hurricanes.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Makin is also studying a Bachelor of Coaching and Exercise Science at the University of Canberra.

Name: Sean McMahon
Club: GPS Ashgrove (QLD)
Position: Flanker
Height: 187cm
Weight: 92kg
Date and place of birth: 18/06/1994, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2011), Australian Sevens (2011-)

At just 17 years old, Sean McMahon was the youngest-ever Australian Sevens representative when he debuted for the Qantas Men's Sevens at the inaugural Gold Coast Sevens – Fever Pitch tournament in 2011.

The year proved as successful as it was busy, with McMahon playing for the Australian Schoolboys which defeated New Zealand 26-19 in 2011, before attending the Noosa Sevens and being signed to a two-year contract with the Qantas Men's Sevens side.

Since earning his debut on the Gold Coast, the mobile forward went on to compete in every HSBC Sevens World Series tournament of the 2011-2012 season.

Name: Benn Melrose
Club: Sydney University (NSW)
Position: Back Row
Height: 189cm
Weight: 95kg
Date and place of birth: 24/10/1992, Sydney, Australia
Representative honours: Australia A Schoolboys (2010)

An impressive young flanker, Benn Melrose burst onto the Sydney club Rugby scene in his first year out of high school, captaining the Sydney University Colts side to a premiership while also being named player of the year in 2010.

He is currently studying a Bachelor of Law and Commerce majoring in Finance at Sydney University.

Melrose has a slew of pre-game rituals, which include carrying the same water bottle he has had since he was 12 years old.

Rugby is in the Melrose blood as his father, Brian, was an assistant coach to the Waratahs.

His uncle Tony played for the Wallabies and State of Origin for NSW, while his uncle, Gregg, played for the Waratahs.

Name: Jock Merriman
Club: Sydney University
Position: Scrumhalf, Flyhalf
Height: 178cm
Weight: 81kg
Date and place of birth: 21/08/1993, Canberra, Australia
Representative honours: Australia A Schoolboys (2011)

Currently playing Colts first grade for Sydney University, Jock Merriman is a utility back known for his ability to control a game.

With good vision, game sense and a maturity beyond his years, the scrumhalf/flyhalf has already represented his country at the Australia A Schools level, having faced the England Under 18s in 2011.

Merriman is studying a Bachelor of Agricultural Economics at Sydney University.

Rugby is also a family trait, as his father, George, played for NSW Country.

He is also a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy.

Name: Maile Ngauamo
Club: Sunnybank (QLD)
Position: Hooker
Height: 182cm
Weight: 102.5kg
Date and place of birth: 15/08/1993, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2011)

Having already represented the Queensland and Australian Schoolboys, Maile Ngauamo is ready to take the next step.

Currently studying a Diploma of Law and Justice, Ngauamo hopes to become a police officer, but only if his hopes of becoming a professional Rugby player don't come to fruition.

An Australian-born son of Tongan parents, Ngauamo is related to NRL player Willie Tonga.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Pettowa Paraka
Club: Easts Tigers (QLD)
Position: Prop
Height: 175cm
Weight: 115kg
Date and place of birth: 16/11/1993, Mt. Hagen, Papua New Guinea
Representative honours: Queensland U16 (2009), Queensland Schoolboys (2010-2011), Australian Schoolboys, Queensland A (2012)

A member of the Queensland A IRB Pacific Nations Cup 2012 side, Pettowa Paraka has risen through the Queensland development ranks.

Following strong performances in the Queensland Schools competition, Paraka was called into the Australian Schoolboys side which defeated New Zealand in 2011.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Sam Reiser
Club: University of Queensland (QLD)
Position: Second Row
Height: 200cm
Weight: 101kg
Date and place of birth: 06/11/1993, Brisbane, Australia
Representative honours: Australian Schoolboys (2010)

One of several towering locks in the side, Sam Reiser made his way to the Australian Under 20s following runs with both the Australian Schoolboys and Australian Under 29s.

He is currently studying a Bachelor of Engineering/Commerce at University of Queensland.

Reiser is a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Hugh Roach
Club: Eastwood (NSW)
Position: Hooker
Height: 178cm
Weight: 98kg
Date and place of birth: 11/09/1992
Representative honours: Australian Under-20s (2011)

One of five players returning from the 2011 Australian Under-20 team, Hugh Roach is the equal-most capped Australian Schoolboy ever (11, tied with Chris Feauai-Sautia).

Roach was called into the Australian Under 20s as an 18-year-old, following two successful seasons as the premier rake in the Aussie Schools front-row.

As with teammate Apolosi Latunipulu, Roach was a member of Newington's First XV side which went through 2010 unbeaten to claim the coveted GPS title in Sydney's premier Schoolboy competition.

He is currently a member of Australian Rugby Union's National Academy and was a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Chris Feauai-Sautia
Club: Souths Magpies (QLD)
Position: Wing
Height: 181cm
Weight: 88kg
Date and place of birth: 17/11/1993, Auckland, New Zealand
Representative honours: Australian Under-20 (2011), Queensland U16 (2008), Queensland Schoolboys (2009, 2010)

Chris Feauai-Sautia is the equal-most capped Australian Schoolboy in history, tied on 11 caps with Newington College's Hugh Roach, topping the previous marks of nine held by Wallabies Quade Cooper and Kurtley Beale.

Feauai-Sautia signed with the StGeorge Queensland Reds in 2012, at just 17 years old, while still Brisbane State High School.

Born in New Zealand to Samoan parents, the whippy winger was a standout member of Australian Rugby Union's National Gold Squad from 2009 to 2011.

Feauai-Sautia is studying to become a personal trainer and hopes to become a youth leader at his Sunnybank church group.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

Name: Ulupano Seuteni
Club: Easts Tigers (QLD)
Position: Flyhalf
Height: 185cm
Weight: 90kg
Date and place of birth: 09/12/1993, Adelaide, Australia
Representative honours:

Ulupano Seuteni is one of two teammates in the Australian Under-20 squad to become a part of the StGeorge Queensland Reds organization at 17 years old.

Seuteni was called into the Reds extended player squad while still studying at Queensland's perennial Rugby high school, The Southport School.

Injury forced Seuteni out of contention in 2011, as he missed much of his final year of high school Rugby and was unavailable for selection for the Australian Sevens team at the Youth Commonwealth Games.

He was also part of an Australian Schools Presidents XV team that faced Samoa.

He was also a member of the ARU National Gold Squad – a national Rugby development program for high school students.

COACH – Anthony Eddy

Anthony Eddy joined the Australian Rugby Union High Performance Unit in 2008 after a decorated career as in club Rugby with Sydney University, Super Rugby as well as overseas.

Eddy also coached the Australian Under 21s in 2002, then joined Nucifora and the Brumbies coaching staff as Coaching Co-ordinator for 2003 and 2004.

He has also been Head Coach of Worcester in the UK before returning to Australia and Sydney University as Director of Rugby.

Eddy is currently the ARU HPU National Programs manager working primarily with the development of Australia's elite talent.

COACH – David Nucifora

A former Queensland and Australian hooker, David Nucifora was a member of the World Cup-winning 1991 Wallabies squad.

Nucifora began his professional coaching career with the ACT Brumbies in 2002 and went on to win the Super 12 title in 2004.

After leaving the Brumbies in 2004, Nucifora took over as the Auckland Blues Head Coach for the inaugural Super 14 in 2005, steering the Blues to the semi-finals in 2007.

Already a Wallabies selector, in 2010 Nucifora joined the coaching staff of the national side for their annual end of season Spring Tour - responsible for the mid-week fixtures forward pack. He was also a member of the Wallaby coaching staff during the 2011 RWC campaign.

Currently the General Manager of the Australian Rugby Union's High Performance Unit, Nucifora will again coach the Under 20s alongside Anthony Eddy.

COACH – Adrian Thompson

Former Queensland Reds assistant and Australia A head coach, Adrian Thompson joins the Australian Under-20 coaching staff having recently begun a role with Australian Rugby Union's High Performance Unit.

Thompson has a strong coaching pedigree, with his most recent appointments including a stint in the Japanese Top League at the helm of Kyuden Voltex, before returning to home soils to coach Queensland Premier Grade and storied Australian club, Brothers.

Dan Bowdler Manager

Craig Twentyman Strength and Conditioning

Peter Welsh Doctor

Campbell Hanson Physiotherapist

Hiroyuki Hamamura Analyst

australian®
RUGBY